

Western Kansas World.

Established March 1, 1879.

Official Paper of Trego County.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 23, 1895.

If Judge Sutton is a candidate for U. S. senator he will have quite a following in Trego county. We don't make this statement as a surmise merely but from expressions made by our republicans. Judge Sutton is a man of ability, is peculiarly interested in western Kansas and is a neighbor. Three very good reasons.

It appears that the people of the United States are not so unanimous for war over the Venezuela question as was indicated last week. Mass meetings have been held in New York and elsewhere to protest against the President's war message and the war sentiment. Notwithstanding, the President struck the responsive chord when he delivered that message to Congress and if we understand the sentiment of the American people there will be no bulldozing by Great Britain over the Venezuela matter.

THERE will be no holiday recess for Congress this year. The President is in another dilemma and the Republicans are called upon to assist the administration. A bill was introduced on Thursday to increase the revenues and prevent deficits in the treasury. This will be known as the tariff bill and will become a law when signed by the President and will remain in effect until August 1, 1898, when by its provisions its operations will cease. Another bill was introduced as an emergency bill and provides for the issuing of 3 per cent. five year bonds.

Brother Cook, of the Gove County Gazette, is evidently under conviction but just what direction his discriminating mind will eventually take seems to be problematical right at this moment. In his last issue he says that Gove county is unanimous for Ingalls not even excepting himself and he says it in such a way that it is evident he is proud of it. In another column he pronounces the following eulogium upon Judge Sutton:

"Some of the papers that are prejudiced with Judge Sutton's nativity think his being a New Yorker, and so recently from that state, unfits him to be United States senator from Kansas. From what we know of Judge Sutton, he is intensely Kansan and we know of no one we would rather trust with our interests than the Judge, and we believe that the new representatives elected to the legislature next year will attend to the business, we will have a western man for the next United States senator from Kansas."

THE Leavenworth Times gives it out that Cyrus Leland and his lieutenants have already decided who shall be delegates to the Republican National convention from Kansas. The Times is a little inclined to be sensational on political subjects and it may not have taken proper precautions to verify this rumor before giving it to the public as a fact. Last week we decided that Cyrus himself should be a delegate at large and gave our reasons, but if we discover that he is naming all the rest we will retract what we said then and will decide that he must not go. We dislike very much to be compelled publicly to take anything back but we will do it in this instance. Seriously if Mr. Leland intends to assume the attitude of political dictator the sooner he is deposed the better and when the time comes his lieutenants will all go down with him.

TULLY SCOTT has declared in favor of fusion between Populists and Democrats in this state next fall. Tully should get possession of that letter he wrote A. H. Cox about eighteen months ago.—[Gove County Leader.]

Tully Scott is nothing but a tin-horn politician. Last year he wrote an open letter opposing fusion from principle and said, that "though the heavens should fall" he could not and would not sacrifice his manhood and political principles by advocating fusion. He said much more in the same strain. The letter can be produced any time. Now he is advocating fusion more strongly if possible than he opposed it a year ago. He is only making himself ridiculous in his desperate attempts to break into some party or other and we trust he will succeed. Tully Scott is a very small man with an inordinate desire for distinction. Our local pride—Mr. Scott having at one time been a resident of Wa-Keeney—constrains us to draw our criticism as mildly as possible which we have certainly done in view of all the facts.

A poor man in Osawkee, Kansas, joined the A. O. U. W. a short time ago and was insured for $2,000. The members of the church to which he belonged thought it was wrong to belong to a secret society and through their importunities he was induced to withdraw from membership. Two days later he died and left his family in destitute circumstances. It will appear from this that fanaticism is still to be found in the churches of Kansas and of a kind so gloomy, densely ignorant that we can't help being reminded of the dark ages when on account of religious fanaticism and intolerance blood flowed like water. We don't believe that a circumstance like the above could possibly occur in many communities in Kansas or the United States for that matter. Such fanaticism is akin to anarchism and can never flourish on American soil. We have scarcely words to express our supreme contempt for such self-styled christians. They haven't brains enough to become christians although their names may appear on the church register. There is nothing personal nor local in these remarks. Our preachers and church members are too practical and broad minded and have too much business sense to make it possible that such a thing could ever occur here. "He that provideth not for his own family is worse than an infidel" comes from the highest authority and no genuine christian can ever disregard that precept. There is not now and never can be any war between the A. O. U. W. and kindred organizations and the church.

HUMBUGGED!

Was it a nightmare?

It seemed to be a space of some three days. The passions of the people were moved tremendously. Millions on millions of hearts wildly throbbled with tumultuous emotions. A message from the President of the land had kindled the martial enthusiasm, the glowing patriotism of the people. For our honor, our interest, our pride were at stake. And we said he should fight the bully Britons rather than suffer their insolence.

At his word the country leaped up as one man.

Congress did his bidding. They gave him the investigating commission he requested. They gave him as much money as should be required. He shall choose the commissioners. He desired to have it so. Its operations shall go on as long as he will—even until November, 1896.

Then an immense sensation surged like a tempest through the markets and exchanges of the world. The chuckling Shylocks reaped a vast profit from the common, honest man, for all prices ran down, and Grover's friends on Wall street and Lombard street swept in the plunder. But at last the wreckage was unmanageable and a huge devastation became visible. Then the Shylocks began to cry: Hold! Enough!

Meanwhile crafty Grover was trying to wrest from Congress in its excitement another big block of plunder in the form of an authorized bond issue. But Congress began to smell mischief, and stared aghast!

Hold! Enough! cried Wall street and Lombard street.

Then Grover called the commanding officer of the army and said: "Tell those d—fools that we have only three guns to protect our shores, and war-talk is an absurdity for us for years to come."

Has the country been fooled?
Has Congress been fooled?
Is it possible? Is it a dream? Great God? The cowardly fraud!—[Leavenworth Times.]
